

the GLOSS
A MARVELLOUS LIGHT

FREYA MARSKE

1. Did you enjoy the book? Rate it from 1 - 5.
2. How would you describe the world-building and magical elements in "A Marvellous Light"? Did the author effectively create a believable and immersive fantasy setting? Why or why not?
3. The main character, Robin Blyth, is an intriguing mix of wit, vulnerability, and self-doubt. How did you relate to Robin's character, and what were some of the most compelling aspects of their personality?
4. The novel contains a mix of adventure, mystery, and romance. Which aspect did you find most engaging, and how do they complement each other in the storytelling?
5. "A Marvellous Light" is the first book in a series. What aspects of the story or characters are you most curious to see explored further in future installments?
6. The author, Freya Marske, introduces unique magical creatures and artifacts in the book. Which one fascinated you the most, and how do they contribute to the richness of the story's fantasy elements?
7. If you could ask the author, Freya Marske, one question about "A Marvellous Light," what would it be?
8. The book incorporates LGBTQ+ themes and relationships. Did you enjoy the romance? What about the steamy parts?
9. Compare "A Marvellous Light" to other fantasy novels you've read. What sets it apart, and what elements do you think will resonate with readers who enjoy the genre?
10. Overall, how did you feel about the ending of the book? Did it leave you satisfied, intrigued, or wanting more? What are your predictions for the next installment in the series?